

How to Use the Cal Long Term Care Compare Website

www.CalLongTermCareCompare.org

Follow the instructions below to search for long-term care facilities where you live. This includes nursing homes, hospice care, home health care, assisted living facilities, adult residential facilities, continuing care retirement communities, and adult day health centers.

1. Go to www.CalLongTermCareCompare.org
2. Click on “Select Type of Care” and use the drop-down menu to make your choice.
3. Type your zip code, city, or name of facility into the box to the right of the type of care you chose.
4. Your results will appear on the left-hand side of your screen. Click on the facility’s name to learn more about it.

Follow these instructions to compare multiple facilities.

1. Follow steps 1-3 above.
2. Click on “Save and Compare” for up to six facilities.
3. Click on “My Saved Providers” toward the top right-hand side of your screen.
4. Choose to compare providers or have your list emailed to you. When you compare providers, you can save your choices as a PDF, print the page, or share your choices by email.

Click here to start your search!

Cal Long Term Care Compare provides free, unbiased information to help you make informed decisions about long-term care options.

You do not need to register or provide any personal information to use the website.

Log on to see how local long-term care facilities measure up against each other and against statewide averages. All you need to do is enter a zip code, city, or name of facility you’re interested in... and then you can start learning and comparing!

How We Do It

We gather data from state and federal government organizations and put them into an easy-to-use online format. We are a non-profit organization and are not associated with any of the facilities listed on our website. We update the data and ratings for nursing homes, home health, and hospice care two times each year. We update the data and ratings about assisted living facilities, continuing care retirement communities, and adult day health centers once each year.

Have questions or would like assistance?

Email us at calcompare@convergencehealth.org